

VIRTUAL TEAMS: THE COST SAVINGS

See the cost savings benefit of going virtual

LOWER OVERHEAD

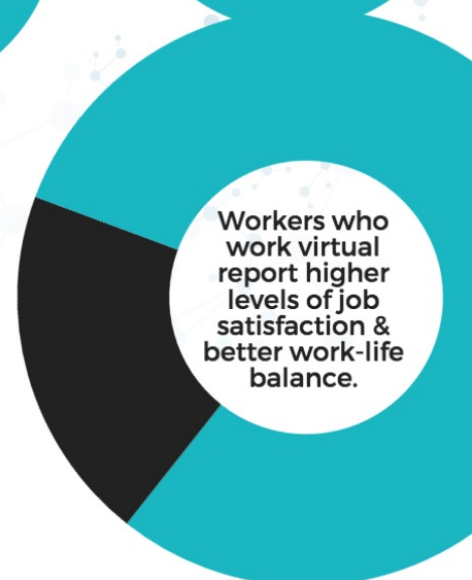

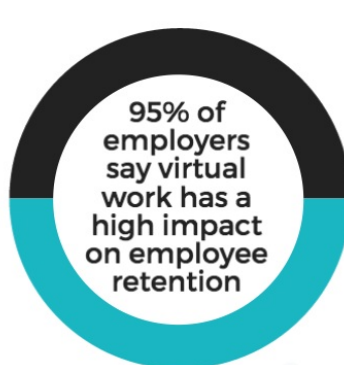

If employees worked from home just half the time, they would save $11,000 per year on average

SAVE ON HIRING & LESS EMPLOYEE CHURN

Home workers reported 25% lower stress levels, 76% were more loyal to their company & 80% reported a better work-life balance

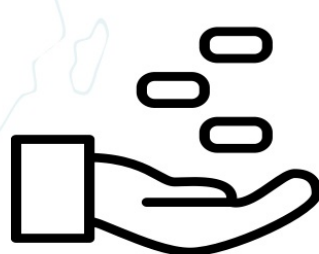

Virtual teams still meet face-to-face, but when you are set up to work virtually, meetings can often be held this way

SAVE ON TRAVEL EXPENSES

An average cost of a domestic business trip is $949 per person, while an overseas trip costs $2,600. Even though teams do not always meet virtually, those costs can quickly add up!

LOWER REAL ESTATE COSTS

By switching to a virtual environment, a business could save $10,000 per employee per year in real estate costs

FEWER SICK DAYS

Unscheduled absences cost employers an average of $1,800 per employee per year, but as much as 78% of employees call in sick because of personal issues or stress

Virtual workers are more likely able to deal with these issues without requiring significant absence from work

REMOTE WORKERS SAVE, TOO

$2,000 to $7,000: the amount it is estimated that remote workers can save each year by working virtually

COMPANIES WITH VIRTUAL TEAMS...

ORACLE®

Sun Microsystems (now part of Oracle) saved $68 million a year in real estate costs

MCKESSON

saves $2 million a year because of virtual teams

IBM

cut its real estate costs by $50 million because of virtual teams

DOW®

Dow Chemical saves over 30% on non-real estate costs thanks to virtual teams

6 out of 10 employers identify cost savings as a significant benefit to going virtual
